FOUNDERS Lee Foley, Justin John Greene, Samia Mirza, Corrie Siegel

FOUNDED April 24, 2010

MISSION Actual Size Los Angeles is a gallery run by artists Lee Foley, Justin Greene, Samia Mirza and Corrie Siegel. Through close interaction with artists and thoughtful preparation of exhibitions and events, Actual Size presents a wide range of artwork and allows for situations that activate the exhibition and engage the public in the culture of the artists' work.

RECENT PROJECTS On January 15th, 2011, Actual Size Los Angeles hosted a premiere of Pals or Pals for Life / Life for Pals, an approximately 34-minute video piece, which was shot principally in January 2011 at the Actual Size gallery. Created in the style of a traditional studio audience television program, Pals revels in the angst and emotion of four friends/lovers who must install their respective artworks in the presence of frenemies large and small. Though each character in the film is named after a specific human being, the story implies that these are simple archetypes from a vast universe of narcissistic micro-movements. Pals features performances by Wilson Chang, Richard Lidinsky, PJ Risse, and Natascha Snellman, with cinematography by Tyler Jamison and original theme music composed by Wilson Chang. The screening will be on view January 15th - February 5th, 2011 during gallery hours and by appointment.

GROUP NAME Adrian Piper Gallery

FOUNDERS Melinda Guillen, Daniel Ingroff, Paul Pescador

FOUNDED Summer 2010

MISSION Adrian Piper formed as a response to a celebratory, all-male Los Angeles exhibition. Our first subversive project Waves brought work from female and queer artists into the exhibition, distributed on postcards, as an act of expansive inclusion. The core members Daniel Ingroff, Melinda Guillen and Paul Pescador initiate projects and membership is open and fluid. We use ephemera, multiples and satire as a critical device for our muted interventionist gestures. Adrian Piper exhibits when necessary.
